Site Review Notes

Hi Brian, the website looks great!

The type choices, navigation buttons, and the history linear line sequence are super clear and look amazing :)

The only things I have to comment on are:

- the last line on the body text on the homepage could be lined up with the image or the body text
- Maybe there can be more space between each line on the body texts in the history portion
- If possible add pictures for the media portion of the website
- It would be nice to have a picture of the people's faces and what role they had in the show for the people portion of the website
- For the sources, I think adding the link to the Wikipedia page and to google will be fine

Thank you!
